

Misdiagnosed!

Our health care system has been developed like a weed patch, with no master plan; and that systems various components have, each in their own way, contributed to the current health care mess in the United States today. Merely changing how health care is paid for and made available will still leave our health care system with no real regulation and control of the quality of health care. In Misdiagnosed! Dr. Ira Williams--experienced surgeon, anesthesiologist, medical malpractice expert witness, medical peer reviewer, and insurance consultant--brings to light many of the issues that plague our health care system and offers practical solutions, not only for those in the medical profession, but also for average citizens, about how to understand and better the structure of health care in America.
