

What Do You Mean? (Games for Talking)

These illustrated cards are ideal either as a fun activity resource or for using with people who interpret language literally, including those with Autistic Spectrum Disorders. Featuring thirty-eight commonly-used idioms and metaphors, each pair of cards shows scenarios that demonstrate both the literal interpretation and the implied meaning. Match up the literal and non-literal meanings to ask What do we really mean? Idioms include: Let the cat out of the bag; Stand up for yourself; Piece of cake; It cost an arm and a leg; Green fingers; See eye to eye; and, Feeling blue. A flexible resource for individuals or groups of all ages, this resource is a new way of presenting idioms by visually reinforcing the implied meaning.
