

Employee Out-Of-Pocket Cost For Addiction Hospitalizations 11% Higher Than For Medical/Surgical Hospitalizations During 2011 (OPEN MINDS Weekly News Wire Book 2013)

In 2011, people covered by an employer-sponsored health plan paid about 11% more out-of-pocket for an addiction-related hospitalization than for a medical/surgical hospitalization. The average out-of-pocket cost for an addiction-related hospitalization was $889, but only $796 for a medical/surgical hospitalization. The statistics were reported in Issue Brief: The Impact of the Mental Health Parity and Addiction Equity Act on Inpatient Admissions by Caroline-Nicole Herrera, John Hargraves, and Gregory Stanton, all with the Health Care Cost Institute...
