

Smoking, Healthy People 2020, and Tobacco Policy in the U.S.

Smoking, "Healthy People 2020," and Tobacco Policy in the U.S.

Carolyn Small BSRC, RRT-NPS

This publication describes the current smoking habits of Americans, explains the Healthy People Initiative's goals and objectives, the progress achieved so far on some of the goals, and the work yet to be done. Healthy People is an ongoing project created by the Department of Health and Human Services in collaboration with many agencies, public health professionals, and other professionals in various fields seeking to set policy in the US with the goal of improving the health of Americans on a wide range of issues.
